TOTAL OVER FIVE BILLIONS

Easily Leader in Pan-American Trade,
Both Exports and Imports.

In view of the important part which commercial conditions in the various countries of the two American continents will play in the coming Pan-American congress at Rio Janeiro, the Department of Commerce and Labor has published a monograph on the subject.

It shows that the total annual commerce of all America is $5,050,000,000, of which $2,900,000,000 is that of the United States, leaving $2,150,000,000 as the total commerce of all American countries other than the United States, imports and exports being combined to form these grand totals.

Total for All America.

Considering imports separately, the total for all America is $1,184,377,000, of which $1,170,185,000 is the imports of the United States and the remaining $14,192,000 the imports of other American countries. The exports of all American countries are $2,865,623,000, of which $1,628,984,000 is from the United States, and the remainder, $1,236,639,000, is the exports of all other American countries. Thus of the total commerce of all America, about 54 per cent enter the United States, and of the exports from all America, about 57 per cent go from the United States.

Exports and Imports.

Referring to the countries south of the United States, the chief subject of interest at the present moment, the monograph shows that the imports of all American countries and islands lying south of the United States aggregated $720,000,000 in the latest available year, and the exports aggregated $1,000,000,000. Of these imports, the United States supplies $180,000,000, or practically 26 per cent; of the exports the United States takes $350,000,000, or practically 35 per cent.

The general fact that the United States supplies 26 per cent of the imports of the American country lying south of her borders, and takes 35 per cent of their exports, suggests a fairly satisfactory trade relation between this country and her Spanish-American neighbors.
